

Course Name/Duration

Introduction to Local Government Investment Pools (LGIPs)

30 minutes

This course explores what LGIPs are, their benefits, investment policies, types of assets, and more.

AI Revolution

70 minutes

This course, presented by Linda Duessel, Senior Equity strategist and Senior Vice President at Federated Hermes, looks at the current and future impact of Artificial Intelligence (AI) on the economy. It also examines the most and least likely job positions to benefit from AI technology and the best-positioned nations to capitalize on it.

The Basics of ETFs

60 minutes

This course discusses the growth of ETFs, types of ETFs, and how they differ from other types of investment vehicles.

Seven Go-to Strategies to Tame Stress

90 minutes

In this course, you'll learn to tame stress by first understanding the difference between healthy and unhealthy coping strategies and learning seven effective techniques that can help you relieve stress and regain control.

How to Be an Ethical Leader

70 minutes

Taking on a leadership role means more than executing smart business decisions - you also need to model ethical practices that create long-term value. In this course, you'll learn why ethics matter in business, how to create a conscientious culture, and get practical tips to help you guide and interact with employees ethically.

Doing the Right Thing: A Guide To Good Workplace Ethics

85 minutes

Good ethics are good business. Yet sometimes we all struggle to do the right thing in the workplace. Maybe we feel stressed or overwhelmed, and the easier option becomes more attractive. We could also be afraid to speak up—or just unsure what the ethical decision would be.

In this course, you'll learn what workplace ethics are, why they're important in guiding your ethical behavior at work, and common ethical pitfalls & how to avoid them. Upon completion, you will gain a deeper understanding of workplace ethics and how to utilize them to add to a positive workplace culture.

Phishing & Cybersecurity Awareness Training

60 minutes

The objective of this course is to provide a comprehensive overview of cybersecurity awareness issues and to equip you with the knowledge of the fundamentals of cybersecurity. Upon completion, you will gain a deeper understanding of what is required to help protect yourself and our organization from cyberattacks.

Anatomy of a Recession 2018

60 minutes

This course discusses the history and characteristics of post WWII recessions and compares that information with the Recession of 2007.

How the Federal Reserve Impacts the Markets: Part 1

60 minutes

This course is part one of a four-part online series focusing on how the Federal Reserve impacts the markets. Here in part one we'll review who the Federal Reserve is and the actions they took to control the speed and health of the U.S. economy in times of financial crisis.

How the Federal Reserve Impacts the Markets: Part 2

60 minutes

This course is part two of a four-part online series focusing on how the Federal Reserve impacts the markets. Here in part two we examine how the Federal Reserve is structured. We will also learn about monetary policy and how it is implemented.

How the Federal Reserve Impacts the Markets: Part 3

60 minutes

This course is part three of a four-part online series focusing on how the Federal Reserve impacts the markets. Here in part three we'll take a look at the economic data that influences the Fed's decisions.

How the Federal Reserve Impacts the Markets: Part 4

50 minutes

This course is Part Four of a four-part online series focusing on how the Federal Reserve impacts the markets. Here in Part Four we'll learn about the two schools of thought on government intervention into the markets, as well as the perceived benefits and drawbacks of Federal Reserve actions that influence the markets.

General Securities Series: Money Market Sector

72 minutes

This course provides an overview of the money, or cash, market, money market instruments and money market funds. The program concludes with a discussion of the risks and rewards of investing in the money market.

General Securities Series: Government Sector

80 minutes

Discuss the Government securities that are available and their risks and rewards.

General Securities Series: Corporate Sector

50 minutes

This course is one of several designed to give you an overview of securities in various sectors of the investment market.

Calculating Risk Adjusted Performance

70 minutes

Discusses various methods for calculating the amount of risk a portfolio manager may take to provide a successful portfolio.

The Regulators 2018

70 minutes

This course will give you an overview of some of the most well-known regulatory agencies of the federal government, and certainly the agencies that have the most influence on the financial services industry.

